

Burundi country profile

Who are our mobility partners?

4 Burundian universities in 16 partnerships

Who are our capacity-building partners?

Our priorities for education

N°1 priority for education

Access to quality education: Improving access to education for all children, particularly in marginalized and rural areas, remains a crucial priority. In Burundi, many schools lack proper infrastructure including classrooms, libraries, and other essential facilities. This posed challenges to providing a conducive learning environment.

N°2 priority for education

Teacher Training and Professional Development: Providing teachers with ongoing training opportunities, resources, and recognition is crucial. Despite a constrained economic development, Burundi has chosen to invest in its youth and its future. For that reason, efforts have been made in the domain of teacher training and professional development to enhance sustainable development.

N°3 priority for education

Curriculum Reform and Vocational Skills Development: In the context of Burundi, these efforts typically involve various stakeholders, including government bodies, educational institutions, industry partners, and community organizations. Some considerations related to curriculum reform and vocational skills development

Some facts & figures

Population:
Number of higher education institutions	10
Number of students in higher education	70 000
Main language(s) of instruction	French

Most recent annual statistics. Source 1: WHED, Source 2: UNESCO